STEWARDS WHO ARE NOT ENERGETIC ENOUGH-

CERTAIN ENEMIES OF HONEST SPORT. The reputable, honorable and trustworthy tur writers of this city have praised and commended the action of the Aqueduct stewards in the Daly It is amusing to note the ridiculous special pleas in extenuation of Daly which have been put forth by a few unscrupulous writers who are at art enemies of honest racing, and who are constantly longing and yearning for a return of the worst abuses of the worst days of Guttenburg and of the period when Guttenburg was a cesspool of These apologists profited in obe way and pnother by the existence of the lowest and vilest of the midwinter tracks in New-Jersey. The midinter racing of the old days in New-Jersey, which did so much to bring dishoner and disgrace upon the Eastern turf, ought to have resulted in a long term of imprisonment for every person connected with it. In fact, some of the persons connected with it were sentenced to terms of imprisonment, but through the use of peculiar influences in New-Jersey they escaped with fines. It is not surprising that the beneficiaries of the most abominable evils of midwinter racing in New-Jersey sympathize with Daly. Some of these delectable and charming writers actually have the effrontery to declare that the Aqueduct stewards ought to make an apology to Daly Isn't that richly humor The idea of the stewards of any racetrack on earth, since the suppression of the midwinter racetracks in New-Jersey, making an apology to The suggestion is unutterably absurd, and could come only from the enemies of honest racing. Every step taken by the stewards of any race-which tends to discourage inconsistent rupning ought to receive the hearty and enthusiastic support of every honorable and reputable turf writer. It makes little difference, however, in the long run what any disreputable, mendacious and unscrupulous turf writers may write, or what excuses or apologies for inconsistent running these vriters may invent and put in print. EVILS THAT MUST BE CHECKED.

If the stewards at the recent meetings at Gravesnd and at Sheepshead Bay had taken heroic and radical measures to check inconsistent running and jockeyship, the turf in the Empire State would be in a much sounder and safer dition than it is in at present. Just so long as any betting at all is permitted in any way on racetracks (and thoroughbred racing is not likely to be kept up without some betting in some form), the turf is in danger of suppression, because of legisdistrust, unless all the stewards of the Jockey Club State are always vigilant, alert, fearless and ener-

ing on the part of racetrack stewards and the stewbred racing in this State from destruction. A few Association, of Chicago, gave magnificent meetings, at which extremely valuable prizes were offered, at which the most celebrated horses in America were seen, and at which great multitudes of spectators present. Racing has been given up entirely by that association. The reason for this action was the fact that so many turf rascals infested the Western turf as to cover the sport with disrepute and dis-Hence the Washington Park Association retired. So it will be to a certainty in the Empire State, unless our racetrack stewards and the stewards of the Jockey Club will act boldly and bravely and unfilledingly to suppress meansistent running and to relieve the turf of the presence of all owners, trainers, lockeys and layers-of-olds whose prac-tices give cause for suspicion. Mest of the stewards, both of the ractracks and of the Jockey Ciub also, have been too amiable and easygoing and indulgent

The American turf is in sore need of an ample equipment of honest and competent trainers and of honest and competent trainers and of honest and competent jackeys. The number of thoroughly trustworthy and skilful trainers and lockeys in this country is far too small. If the breeders do not come promptly to the help of the turf and work faithfully and zealously for its improvement, all yearling sales will soon become farcical failures.

SUGGESTIONS FROM JUDGE BURKE. In the course of an article in "The Spirit of The Times," J. J. Burke, the celebrated racing judge,

In the course of an article in "The Spirit of The Times," J. J. Burke, the celebrated racing judge, whose experience has been most extensive and important, makes the following observations:

Let me tell you and anybody who cares to learn that in these days if you have a horse which can win a selling race you have a horse which can come pretty close to whinning the greatest honors on the turf, and I will call your attention right here to the fact that The Commoner, who gave Henry of Navarre a hard race in the Suburban, was running in selling races only a month or more ago, and that Hornpipe, also a contender in the big handicaps, has been repeatedly beaten in selling races. The fact is that nowadays the selling races are run for by the best horses in training, bar, perhaps, one or two of the very highest class. This should not be so, and the governors of racing should sit down and devise some method of keeping over-night handicap horses out of selling races and vice-versa. A rule should be passed reducing the amount of purses in selling races and enacting that horses running in such races should be debarred from competing in such races should be debarred from competing in such races and enacting that horses running in such races and stature as a series of suggestions made some time ago by Frank Ware, and the more urgently I think that some reform is necessary.

There is no denying the fact that the average racegoer cannot understand the apparent deviation in form of cripples like The Commoner, Hornpipe, Counter Tenor, etc., all of whom this year have ranked in almost the same class as the winners of the big handicaps of the year, and then a few days afterward see those same horses unniaced in selling races. No wonder the average racegoer cannot understand the apparent deviation in form of cripples like The Commoner, Hornpipe, the big handicaps, on the same class as the winners of the big handicaps, on the sum of the same class as the winners of the big handicaps, and accordingly every each to time the big handic made to have them "keyed up" when they start for those races.

Hoth owners and trainers of such horses seem to ignore the fact that their horses are bet upon in these selling races by the public on the assumption that they are up to the best form, and if they are not the public have paid a great price to find it out. No wonder, therefore, that a howl goes up that reaches from Maine to California when a good handicap horse, running in a selling race, is seen to be under the whip half a mile from home, and no wonder that enemies of racing take advantage of such a state of affairs to denounce the whole institution. The remedy? It is simple enough Make it a penal offence to run a horse for work. Oh, yes, it is done many times, and everybody who goes racing knows it. It is a good deal worse when done by a stable which is known as a "non-betting" stable. People don't expect it from such owners. Experience has taught them that so-called betting owners would rather send their horses to the post fit and then back them than to deliberately fly in the face of public opinion by running horses deliberately for vork one day and then back them heavily the next

HOW THE TURF CAN BE SAVED.

There is a great deal of truth and force in these comments and suggestions from Judge Burke, and he has expressed his views in vigorous and emphotic language. He recognizes the fact that it is dangerous and menacing to the turf when oriticism and fault-finding are called out by abuses of any gind. Judge Burke is sincerely and earnestly anxious for the complete purgation and purification of the turf, and he himself has accomplished much in that direction. He has a clearer vision and far more penetration and sagacity than some of the stewards of the Jockey Club and some of the stewards and other officials of the Eastern racetracks possess The blindness of many of the Eastern turf stewards and other officials is astounding. These gentiemen have seen racing wiped out in New-Jersey because the managers of the New-Jersey because the new-Jersey by Comparison of the Larger of Charles and December o The blindness of many of the Eastern turf stewards

YESTERDAY'S RACES AT AQUEDUCT. THE CASE OF W. C. DALY-INCIDENTS OF THE CONTESTS.

A large number of spectators attended the races at the Aqueduct track yesterday. The passing of W., C. Daly, so far as the Aqueduct track is concerned, was the principal topic of discussion. A vast majority of the spectators commended the stewards for their decisive action in suppressing the usually irrepressible Connecticut turfman, That decision of the stewards met the approval of the bettors was plainly evident, and the apologists for the man from Hartford were few and far between. A prominent racing man, who made his first visit to Aqueduct yesterday, remarked:

"It is singular that some decisive action was not taken earlier in the season to suppress in-andout running in certain stables, but that is reason why the Aqueduct management should infure their standing before the race-going public by ignoring such a flagrant case as that of Volley, if have been correctly informed. The only apole gists for Daly that I have heard from do not carry much weight on the turf. One of them is an exracing official who falled to punish or suppress notoriously suspicious actions by owners, trainers and jockeys at tracks where he officiated. Hence professional jealousy may have prevented him from mmending the action taken by R. A. Swigert, at

The Jockey Club stewards will review the action taken by the stewards at Aqueduct. Therefore W. C. Daly will receive a fair trial, and whatever th verdict may be novody who has the true interests of the turf at heart will condemn the action taken by the officials at Aqueduct, who proclaim that they do not desire Daly's horses, methods or presence at Aqueduct, no matter how warmly he may be received at other racetracks.

The cing was marred by delays at the post, caused by horses that act as if they were possessed of demons. Moreover, there is not room enough of the backstretch to start more than eight horses with the field aligned across the track. Salaire and Miss Brambie were the only other horses supported in the straight betting. There was some lively betting for place honors, and the lavers had all they could attend to until the flag fell. Miss Bramble was first away, with Full Speed as his runner-up. Salaire headed the ruck in third place. When straightened out for the run-in, Full Speed passed Miss Bramble easily, but was immediately challenged by Salaire, an eighth of a mile from the winning post. In the drive that ensued Salaire was too much for Full Speed, winning by a length at the finish. Full Speed was second, half a length in front of Edna D., who beat Miss Bramble a length and a half for third place. The second race was a selling affair, at a mile. Van Brunt was the favorite in the betting. Allen L. and Lambent were also well played. A select few, however, bet on Royal H. The race was a good one Lambent were also well played. A select few, however, bet on Royal H. The race was a good one Lambent were also well played. A select few, however, bet on Royal H., rode ably, and managed to hip Lambent by a head on the post. Van Bruit was third, two lengths away.

Zanone, who was at 19 to 3 on, won the third race easily from Premier, the second choice in the betting, by a length and a half. Marsian was third, six lengths behind Premier. Belle Washington caused z long delay at the post. She is hardly a safe animal to permit to race. In a large field it would be dangerous to the other contestants if she acted as she did yesterday.

The fourth race was highly interesting to the spectators, as it was hotly contested from post to finish. There were three starters. Sue Kittle was at 5 to 4 on in the betting. Charade was quoted at 7 to 5, and Mirage at 4 to 1. Mirage and Charade went to the front and made a fast pace for half a mile. Then Sue Kittle made play for him and passed him, leading by a length on the home turn. Ballard began to ride Charade, and Dosgett, on Mirage, called upon him to overhaul the leader. Poth of them gained upon Sue Kittle, causi

HAGGIN COLORS TO BE SEEN AGAIN. San Francisco, July 18.- A morning paper says: The Haggin colors of orange and blue, made famous by Salvator and other great horses, will be een at the next meetings of the Pacific Coast and California Jockey clubs. Haggin is in New-York, but recently had several long talks with John A. Mackay, the superintendent of the breeding farm. Mackey has pressed Mr. Haggin to try again for some of the richest prizes on the turf. It is reported that 'Matt' Byrnes, the celebrated trainer, is again to assume control of the Haggin stables."

Racing men who were seen last night by a Tribun reporter thought it not improbable that Mr. Haggin ad decided to return to the turf with a fine stable of fleet youngsters. He has been a preeder on a large scale. The extremely low price of yearilings has had a rather depressing effect upon breeders. has had a rather depressing effect upon breeders. As has been suggested in The Tribune, racing would be benefited and better prices would be secured for yearlings if the prominent breeders of the country would take a more active increast in racing. Knowing this, it is not considered astonishing by racing men if Mr. Haggin has decided to return to the turf. In former years his horses from the Rancho del Paso won many signal and dazzling victories. When the reporter called at Mr. Haggin's home, No. 55. Fifthave, last night he was informed that he had gone to Narragansett Pier, where he would spend some time.

WRENN CANADIAN CHAMPION.

THE HONOR FROM LARNED BY DEFAULT. Ningara, Ont., July 18 (Special),-The Canadian tenals championship was won here this morning by Vrenn, ex-champion of the United States. Wrenn was sitted against E. P. Fischer, the well-known New-York crack, in the final round of the singles and won by a score of 6-1, 6-3, 7-5. As W. A. Larned, who won the championshop last year, is abroad and unable to defend his cup, Wrenn got the title and trophy by default. Fischer's brilliant record this ason in defeating a number of the leading cracks of the East led his friends to believe that he would push the doughty little ex-champion hard for the place, but Wrenn's superfority was manifest from played an all round game o od volleying, smashing and driving that has sell iom been equalled on Canadian soil. THE HUDSON RIVER TOURNAMENT. GOOD TENNIS PLAYED ON THE OPENING DAY AT POUGHKEEPSIE.

Poughkeepsie, July 18 (Special).-The opening of the annual tournament of the Hudson River Lawn Tennis Association was marked by fine weather and good playing. The terraces and pavilien about the courts were thronged with a gaylydressed and enthusiastic crowd of onlookers, among whom the fair sex predominated. The asse has this year a new challenge cup, as the old one was won last year by C. C. Sands for the third time when it became his property. In the match be tween William W. Gordon and E. M. Taylor, Tay lor was clearly outclassed, and Gordon won easily by clever passing and playing.

By far the best match of the afternoon was that etween S. F. Mills and James L. Robertson, jr., of Yonkers. The first set was a closely-contested Beard, of Yonkers, won the first set from H. I Benjamin with comparative ease, but in the second Benjamin with comparative ense, but in the second Benjamin played a much better game. There was only one match played in ladies' doubles, but it was an exhibition of some fine tennis. The match was between Miss Bessie Gaylard and Miss Gilbert against Miss Isabel A. Morgan and Miss Alethea F. Putnam, and resulted in favor of the last-named team. The one set in men's doubles, between James L. Robertson and Henry Beard against William Wetterean and J. M. Howell, showed more skill and quicker tennis than seen at any other time during the afternoon. In the clubhouse tea was served by Mrs. Ambler, assisted by her daughter and Miss Sickley. In the evening a dance was given by the club to their guests in the beautiful clubhouse. The scores follow: scores follow:

NEW-YORK NO MATCH FOR BRIDGEPORT The Bridgeport Club played the New-York Cricket Club at Central Park yesterday, and through the good batting of S. Fox the Connecticut men gained a victory by twelve runs. The scores were: Bridgeport, 78; New-York, 66.

KINGS COUNTY MEN BEAT HARLEM C. C. The Harlem Cricket Club and the St. George Club, of Kings County, fought out their championship game at Prospect Park yesterday. The Kings County men again proved the victors, this time by fifty-three runs, putting together 123 runs against their opponents 70. C. T. Toddings and A. Farnsworth made a great stand for the winners, while S. B. Standfast played a good inning for Horlan.

BLOOD FOR COLUMBA AT LAST. The Columbia Cricket Club secured its first As sociation victory at Central Park yesterday, defeating St. George's Athletic Club by thirty-eight runs. The scores were: Columbia, 53; St. George's Athletic Club, 15. ST. GEORGE'S H THE LOSER.

The Kearny Cricket Club met St. George's H eleven at Central Park yesterday. The Kearny Club won easily by seventy-nine runs, L. Brierly and R. Torrence doing the best work for the winners, while for St. George's men, R. C. Redmond was the only one to make a stand. The scores were: Kearny Cricket Club, 103; St. George's Cricket Club, 24.

STATEN ISLAND C. C., 2: ORANGE A C., 1. Two thousand people saw the finest game of the eason on the Orange Oval vesterday afternoon between the Orange Athletic Club and the States Island Cricket Club. Only one error was made and the score was a tie up to the ninth inning. The score:

AUSTRALIAN CRICKETERS WIN AGAIN. London, July 18.-In the cricket match between the Australian and All-England teams, which was begun at Manchester Thursday, the English team finished their second inning to-day with a score of 265 runs. In their first inning they scored 231 runs, making a grand total of 135. The Australians made 412 runs in their first inning. The Australians in their second inning scored enough runs to win the game by three wickets.

The eleventh annual regatta of the Long Island

Numerous small craft crowded, with sightseers, were about the waters early and waited im-patiently for the beginning of the day's programme. The first event was scheduled for 2:30 o'clock, but It was two hours later before the men took their positions at the stakeboat, while the final event positions at the stakeboat, water the analytems was rowed in aimost darkness. The senior four-oared gig race was the most important and surprising race of the day. The Institute Boat Club, of Newark, N. J., the amateur American champions; the Union R. C., and the Bohemian, of New-York, and the Varuna, of Brooklyn, were entered, and, after a hot contest, the Varuna Club won by a haiflength from the Institute four. In the last event for senior four-oared shells, the Institute Club was again defeated, the Staten Island Boat Club win-ning after a splendidly rowed race.

BALTIMORE, 10; CINCINNATI, 3. Cincinnati, July 18.-Thirteen thousand people saw the Reds fall down to-day, after e'even straight wins. The champions bunched their hits on Ehret and made doubles and triples at will, while Hemming was effective with men on bases, except in the sixth inning. Both teams played a good game in the field. In the seventh inning, after Peltz had singled, Ehret bunted to Hemming, but Clarke interfered with Ehret and a double play resulted, as Umpire Sheridan did not see the "hold-up." The score:

Basehits Cincinnati, 10; Baltimore, 12; Errors Cincinnati, 1; Baltimore, 1; Batteries Ehret and Peitz; Hemming and Clarke, Umpire Sheridan.

BOSTON, 7; CLEVELAND, 3.

Cleveland, July 18.—The Bostons had their batting clothes on to-day and easily took the Clevelands The Spiders made railies at the bat in the sixth and seventh innings, and on two occastons a basehit would have tied the score, but none was forthcoming. Nichols pitched a masterly game

Pittsburg, July 18 .- Carsey started in to pitch for Philadelphia to-day and lasted just one inning, Pittsburg scoring five runs. Keener, who succeeded him, pitched a good game, except in the seventh inning, when the home team broke a tie and scored three runs. Philadelphia put up a great up-hill game, the feature of which was Thompson's throw to the plate in the seventh inning, cutting off a run. Attendance, 3,00. The score:

Basehits Pittsburg, 14; Philadelphia, 11. Errors— Pittsburg, 1; Philadelphia, 3. Batteries Hawley and Merritt, Carsey, Keener and Clements. Umpire—isetts.

THE WHALEBROOK HANDICAP GODSCHALK, OF PHILADELPHIA, KILLS FIFTEEN BURDS STRAIGHT.

Long Branch, July 18 (Special).-The Whalebrook Handicap, the principal shoot at the Hollywood Gun Club grounds to-day, brought together a large number of sporting men. There were eleven entries. The shoot from start to finish was exciting, owing to the close position of the leaders. Godschalk of the Riverton Gun Club, of Philadelphia, who carried off the honors by grassing fifteen birds without a single miss, was closely pressed. At the beginning of the twelfth round, "Count," Morris and Gods-chalk were on even terms, none having missed a single bird. Morris was the first of the leaders to fall, missing his twelfth and thirteenth birds, which virtually settled his chances of winning the prize. "Count" held on until the fourteenth round, when he missed. Godschalk continued grassing every bird with apparent ease to the end.

Daly, the Futurity winner, who was put down for a "sure thing," quit after killing his ninth bird, having three misses against him. Ballard quit after missing his tenth bird. Hopper and McAlpin, who divided third money with Morris, killed thirteen out of fifteen, and made some clever shots. Godschalk, the winner, received $82.50, and "Count," $49.50.

The summary:

Whalebrook Handicap, 15 birds; ties miss and Shooters handicapped at 27 yards and under allowed misses as no birds. Entrance $15, 50 per cent to win:

FOR THE MACKAY CUPS HANDICAP TOURNAMENT AT THE ENGLE-WOOD GOLF CLUB.

THE OTHER FOR MEN.

FORTY-ONE CONTESTANTS IN THE MATCHES ONE OF WHICH WAS FOR WOMEN AND

At the Englewood Golf Club yesterlay the second the fortnightly handleap tournaments for the Mackay cups brought out the largest number of players that has ever been seen on the links There were in all forty-one contestants, including both men and women, who handed in scores. The nine-hole course was in perfect condition, and the temperature not too high to suit the golfer's ide of good playing weather. The women's many entries, and the game consisted of once around nine holes. It was won by Mrs. Enos, with a see of 99-30-79. The scratch players were Miss Ab habel Green and Miss Helen Burritt. The latter actual score of 84 was fifteen strokes better than those made by her near st competitors. Mrs.

The men's match in the afternoon was an elch and showed superb headwork at critical stages. Wilson was in the box for Cleveland and pitched a good game, but his support was miserable. Attendance, 4,000. The score: rated among the poorer players, and accordhim, but the committee will know better than to repeat this liberality. His rounds of 28 and 1 showed great evenness of play W. C. Van Antwerp, the only scratch man, finished in 161. He was manifestly placed at too great a disadvantage, and it is probable that the handleap allowances for future tournments will all be somewhat cut down. It will be noticed that the first eight scores in the summary are all those of players handicapped at

Golf Club recently by Donald Mackay, in membry of his son, Walter W. Mackay, who was one of the originators of the club. They will be played for formightly until late in the fall in the first matches, held on July 4, Miss Helen Burritt, among the women, and E. H. Jewett, among the men, were the winners. The summaries:
